

The Separation Challenge

The purpose of this challenge is to send this letter to Rozeboosje

Who is Rozeboosje?

That is a good question, and you won't be getting the answer here. But you can find some clues. The most important clues can be found here:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/rozeboosje>

This is all you have.

If you know who Rozeboosje is, just hand this letter to him. Otherwise, hand this letter to somebody else, anybody, as long as you think that the chances are good that that person is somehow more likely to know Rozeboosje, or to get this letter closer to him.

Below you will find a list of names. Before you hand this letter over, please add your name to the list. This doesn't need to be your real name; it can be a nickname. We do not want you to do anything that might compromise your privacy. Do not, under any circumstances, add any other personal information to your entry. When this letter reaches Rozeboosje, he will post a video on YouTube to announce that it has reached him, and he will read out the names on the list in order to see how many steps it took for this letter to reach him.

There are a few other rules:

- 1) Do not post this letter. Hand it over personally to the next person in the chain.
- 2) Only add your name to the list when you are handing it over.
- 3) Only hand over this letter to a person who will commit to participate and on whom you can count. It would be a shame to allow this to go down a dead end.

Thank you very much for your participation!
